Advocates Of State Lottery Hit Back—Blueberry Bill Is Opposed

Belief that some of Maine's churches should "wash their dirty linen" before registering disapproval of a State lottery was expressed before the Legislative Legal Affairs Committee Tuesday by Representative Chester A. Weed of Manchester.

Weed offered the opinion as he supported his bill which would permit legal sale of lottery tickets in Maine under State supervision—a proposal which Rev. Frederick W. Smith of Waterville, secretary of the Christian Civic League of Maine, said the churches "bitterly opposed."

Charging that some churches frequently sold "chances" on quilts and other articles at church fairs, Weed said when church people "take a stand in opposition to a lottery, they should begin looking at their own doings."

"We've taxed about everything we have in this State," said Weed, "and so by having a State lottery we have a real chance to obtain a good source of revenue, without taxation, and at the same time keep our money at home."

Weed and other proponents told the committee Maine was "infested" with "racketeers and crooks" selling lottery tickets in the State illegally. Representative Randolph A. Weatherbee of Lincoln, who at the two previous legislative sessions was unsuccessful in his attempts to have lottery measures enacted, said he still believed the State would "make no mistake" in establishing a lottery. He estimated approximately $2,000,000 would be realized annually from such a source. There is a vast amount of money going out of Maine to racketeers and crooks of other States," said Weatherbee, who estimated the amount totaled approximately $4,000,000 annually. "A State lottery in Maine," Weatherbee said, "would be honest and above board, and would close up these fake lotteries."

Joining Weed and Weatherbee in support of the lottery proposal were Senator Jean Charles Boucher and Representative Edmund J. Lambert of Lewiston, and Representative John R. Smith of Westbrook.

"If the State would run a lottery," Smith said, "the people would buy tickets knowing they would get a fair deal."

"We are looking for State revenue for old age assistance, and I believe this is a good way to get it."

Opponents, besides Rev. Mr. Smith were Rev. Cymbrid Hughes of Augusta representing various church groups; Representative Lee C. Good of Monticello, and Herbert W. Thompson of Castle Hill, and Mrs. John H. Howes, wife of Representative Howes of Charleston.

Representative Thompson told the committee that while he personally opposed the lottery proposal, 80 percent of his constituents, in a post card poll, had advised him they favored it.

Rev. Mr. Smith said it would be illegal "to send lottery tickets through the mails or publish the winners."

"For economic and moral reasons and in the interests of a better State I hope you will report unfavorably on this bill," Smith said. Rev. Mr. Smith said the revenue received from the sale of lottery tickets "invariably constitutes a small prize for the moral integrity destroyed and the political corruption entailed."

Provisions of the measure made no reference to the lottery funds being allocated for old age assistance. Fifty percent would be set aside for prizes and 10 percent for administrative costs.

A commission of three, appointed by the Governor, would be created to administer the law. The chairman would receive $3500 and the other two members $3000 annually. The measure carries a referendum.

'Twas A Success

Past Presidents In the Chairs At Last Monday Night's Meeting

Past Presidents' and Past Commanders' night was observed by Winslow-Hobrook Unit No. 1, American Legion at the regular meeting Monday night. Despite the storm, several past presidents and past commanders were present. Greetings from the Department of Maine were sent by Mrs. Olive Tinkham, department president as she could not be present.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Catherine Libby, president, and a delightful supper was served by the committee comprising Mrs. Mary Dinsmore, Mrs. Jennie Sadler and Mrs. Delia Day, with Al Collins as chef.

After supper all business was dispensed with, and the meeting was ably conducted by Mrs. Ann Snow, past department president, former national committeewoman as well as past unit president, the chairs being occupied by past presidents. A fine entertainment was presented.

First on the program was "The German Band," comprising Charles Libby, Kendrick Dorman, Carlton Wooster, Jackie Wood and Edwin Jones; piano solo, "Song of India" and a reading by Jessie Olds; piano and vocal duets—"Red Sails in the Sunset" and "Beautiful Ohio." Nathalie Edwards and Dorothy Black. Very interesting remarks were made by Mrs. Minnie Miles and Mrs. Ann Alden, past presidents; Mrs. Catherine Libby, president; and Col. Basil H. Stinson, past department commander, also past post commander, and by Post Commander Austin P. Brewer.

The hope was expressed that Past Presidents' and Past Commanders' night would be observed each year.

MARY PERRY RICH'S ADDRESS

"When You Step On a Tack It Is Human To Jump; To Do Something About It"

An address delivered before the State Conference of the D.A.R. at the Eastland Hotel yesterday by Mary Perry Rich, State Chairman of National Defense and member of the National Committee:

Despite shivers down and up our spines, despite jitters and heebie-jeebies from constant war scares; your teamwork from every reporting chapter is magnificent, few dilatory. My sincere thanks for grand co-operation, for quotas paid, response to my typed November letter, for Handbook and National Defense News support, for Sequen-tennial aid, for letters to Congress to continue Dies Committee investigating Un-American activities (for it is up to us to keep Reds under brightest spot-light without throttling free speech), for quiz replies, for intensive U. S. Constitution study for improved appreciation for our Bill of Rights with its five precious basic freedoms—Religion, Speech, Press, Assembly, Petition—which is being denied the rest of the world make us the envy of ten billions of the world's people; for seeing to it that your local teachers put more Kick into civics and history; and most and best, thanks for your splendid awareness as to what most threatens our land today, our hidden perils; for your fixed purpose to familiarize our public with our major aims, as a Society, for your superb enthusiasm.

We vesp deep in our hearts to be true blue to our Founding Fathers, no foreign letters on mind or body riveted upon us, no curb on Old Glory. "Forever alive, forever forward."

When you step on a sharp tack, it is human to jump, to do something about it.

Your chairman admits she "exceeded her authority" but got a thrill protesting to the Boston Herald Mail Bag against Massachusetts Flag Salute school law repeal, several children under ten starting early law-breaking by refusing to salute, backed up by mistaken parents, pleading religious intolerance! A heavy personal mail followed from Canada. New Haven, etc., besides press notices.

The fact that our Committee's two words, "National Defense," have appeared in Press, Pulpit, Platform, Pew, Radio headlines of the whole world since Munich oftener than any other two words, force them into the limelight—inspires us, but is our challenge, also.

For alas! Our other two words, "Patriotic Education," are as conspicuously absent.

But, you ask, National Defense against what? Who, what, where are our enemies to fear? Do we lack political intelligence? Are we incapable of self-government? Are we weaklings to die by our own hand? A mere robot can walk, talk, eat, drink, smoke—even drive a car—in short, can do all we do—except to think and to take risks. To dare. Just how high does our D.A.R. stock rank for daring in world quotations? ur liberties vanish overnight if we break faith. Our glory is that, though we accept guns, armament and know there are principles worth fighting for and dying for, we yet depend on the Intangibles, upon self-reliance not lip service, on sublime Courage, on undying, unflinching Faith, upon Patriotic Education as our weapon and chief shield. Our steps, are lighted by the Torch of our Constitution, by the Supreme Court as its Pillar, which holds our Constitution Torch forever aloft as our Beacon Light.

We refuse to be everlastingly, irrevocably tied up to bears, ghosts, bogeys, bugbears, bugaboos, hobgoblins nightmares. We disown and reject cowering cowardice which ends in collapse, but elect to follow the Red Badge of Courage instead. God may be on the side of heaviest guns, but He is surely on the side of Right, Justice, Equality, Freedom, Humanity. While certain nations end democracy we do our bit to help halt a hell-bent world; to resist, through Patriotic Education, the termites who would undermine our Republic. Red in our banner means red blood, blue means true blue, white means ideals.

Public Opinion, when roused can be an immovable body, an irresistible force, can do miracles. It is King Pin in America. It is our Fourth Arm of Defense granting precedence to the Air Force, to Navy, and Army.

We refuse to be lulled into a false sense of security, stamped into spasms of hysteria, or blinded by clamors for more taxpayers' cash to roll out and roll forth; for true, abiding National Defense must come from within ourselves, our sacred duty to restrain boon-dogging, every phoney pretext for more cash to squander and corrupt. Pay-Day will come. We face the truth that our Public Enemy Number one is the enemy within our own gates, our own lukewarm, feebly good attitude.

The five I's within our own hearts—our Ignorance, Indifference, Inefficiency, Irresponsibility, Indolence must be annihilated, as these are Satan's Indispensable tools, termites which bore from within to kill National Defense through Patriotic Education. They grow fast from the soil that harbors feelings of Dismay, Discontent, Desolation, Disillusion, Dissatisfaction, Degeneration, Discouragement, Despair, Demoralization, Desperation, Degradation, Disloyalty, Dishonor, Disaster, Destruction, Depression, Decay—a what's-the-use, disloyal complex.

If the Reds do smash us, if our democracy is in peril (and it is), then all civilization is in peril and its name is suicide.

We grant democracy is slow, clumsy, only on trial, has never yet been fully tested nor has Christianity. But we claim it is sure as God is sure, embodying the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule, with the Bible still a best seller. Our part is to carry on our fight

Limerock Pomona

Met With Pleasant Valley Grange—Oliver Hamlin Guest Speaker

March 11 the Patrons of Limerock Valley Pomona assembled in the hall of Pleasant Valley Grange for their monthly meeting. While not a record crowd there were goodly delegations from the several Granges, with visitors from Knox, Waldo, Penobscot and Washington Pomonas. Following the necessary business session this program was presented:

Greetings by Past Pomona Master F. L. S. Morse; response by Past Pomona Master Sara Young; song; roll call, which was well responded to, consisted of Irish jokes and stories; "The legend of St. Patrick" read by Supt. F. L. S. Morse; original story by a Vinal Haven member and an original poem by a North Haven member, read by Lilian Rackliff, Pomona lecturer.

Carroll E. Bean of Kenduskeag, overseer of the Maine State Grange, was introduced by the lecturer and spoke in behalf of the Grange sponsored income tax bill. He said that though times and methods in most things have changed the tax laws of Maine are practically the same as when the State was organized. He stressed the need for a broadening of the tax base as to lift in part the crushing burden now placed on real property.

Vocal solos were presented by Raymond Andersen and Constance McPhail; also group singing, to conclude the afternoon exercises.

After a bountiful supper, served by members of Pleasant Valley Grange, the Pomona degree was conferred on a class of five candidates.

The evening program arranged by Elizabeth Passon lecturer of Pleasant Valley Grange follows: Vocal solo, Myron Young; song in costume, Vallie McLaughlin; dialogue, two girl Juvenile Grangers; vocal solos, Alice Barton and Raymond Andersen, reading, F. L. S. Morse; singing skit, Vallie McLaughlin; singing, Grange sextet; a tableau posed for by Oliver Hamlin in khaki, Lawrence Hamlin in blue, with Vallie McLaughlin between them in white representing "Miss Liberty" and song by Jackie Passon, "March on Parade."

Oliver Hamlin Past Commander of the Maine Department V.F.W., gave an address on the causes and effects of the World War.

The program concluded with singing of "America." The next meeting will be held with Megunticook Grange Camden April 8.

[EDITORIAL]

PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM

The Courier-Gazette today recommends a careful perusal of the address delivered before the State Conference of the D.A.R. by Mrs. Mary Perry Rich, State D.A.R. chairman of National Defense. No mincing words there; no shifting of eyes to the facts—an address breathing patriotism in every line—patriotism and caution. Public Opinion, when aroused, can do miracles, she says. "It is King Pin in America. If the Reds do smash us, if our democracy is in peril, and it is, then all civilization is in peril, and its name is Suicide."

SHAKING UP THE PENOBSCOT

The Coast Guard cutter Kickapoo, of Bath, nee Rockland, is on one of her winter pilgrimages up the Penobscot River, trying to keep an open channel between the Bangor-Brewer bridge and clear an outlet to the anchor ice jam. At last accounts this useful and doughty craft was working near the Hampden-Winterport line. The good old "Kick" We miss her.

A DICTATION RECORD

Speaking of dictators—there was Edgar Wallace, the novelist, who, according to authentic accounts dictated an 89,000 word novel—"The Devil Man" between Friday night and a Monday morning. Try dictating even 1000 words and you will get some comprehension of the task he faced.

THE MOTORISTS' DUTY

If motorists wish to keep our Main street kept clear of snow after a heavy storm they must use sense and co-operation, to say nothing of regard for the law. Chief of Police Arthur D. Fish informs us that on a recent morning, following a storm, he counted 13 automobiles parked between the foot of Lindsey street and head of Tilson avenue, their tops heavily covered with snow, showing that they had been there all night. The road commissioner fares forth with his plows, in order that communication may be maintained, and his progress is halted by every parked car—an allowance of about 30 feet for each. The obvious result is very unsatisfactory to those who wish to use the street and to owners of stores which cannot be approached. Such tactics, and such absence of thought, are by no means peculiar to Rockland. See what the Portland paper had to say about it in Wednesday morning's issue:

In spite of Chief Brooks' suggestion that citizens keep their cars out of the business district until the Department of Works has cleared the streets, great numbers of automobiles were yesterday in evidence. Many of them were doubtless in frequent or occasional use during the day; but there were many others along the streets belonging to all-day parkers; and around them the snow apparatus had to go.

If Portland intends to do a thorough job of snow removal it is evident that it must go over and over the streets because it has been prevented from doing a real job the first time by careless or selfish car-owners. That is one reason why removal costs us pretty nearly a thousand dollars for each inch of snowfall. On every street almost, may be seen a car or two deserted during the height of the storm and calmly abandoned, shoveled in from the sidewalk, plowed in from the street, narrowing the open way for traffic.

Is there any penalty? How long may a parked car with impunity defy the city's efforts to open the streets? Perhaps there are not adequate answers to these questions. But it seems clear that our easy-going tolerance of individual freedom to consult personal rather than civic interest has proceeded too far. This business of automobile parking immediately after a blizzard ought to be safeguarded. The present license is not only causing the citizens inconvenience but it is costing them money.

The biggest parking problem that Portland has is "snow-parking" that blocks street cars and all other traffic besides tying up the city's removal equipment. And parking meters will not solve this problem.

NORTH HAVEN'S UNUSUAL HEN

North Haven, March 13

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Here's an unusual story for the poultrymen of the world. I am the owner of a flock of six New Hampshire Red pullets. Feb. 21 I gathered the eggs in the usual manner about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Lo, and behold! I had seven eggs. Not knowing whether one of these eggs had been laid late the night before, I said nothing.

However here's where the "believe it or not" comes in. As I was gathering the eggs today, March 13, I espied a droopy hen in my flock—something unusual as they are always quite pert. Picking the hen up and examining her I placed her on the roost. Within a few moments she had laid one soft shelled egg on the drop board. Thinking nothing of it and intending to pick it up as soon as I had given them some grain, I went to the grain shed and returned. As I was emptying the grain in the feed box, I happened to look up. Lo, and behold! There was a second soft shelled egg by the first, making a total of seven eggs for the day. Two eggs within five minutes from the same hen, unbelievable yet the truth. However both eggs were soft shelled, this time, and I broke the second as I picked it up to bring it home.

But it does go to show that a hen can lay two eggs a day, and I now believe that on Feb. 21 that this same hen laid two perfect eggs, thus accounting for my seven on that day. H. Preston Parsons

MR. BARNES' VIEW

St. George, March 12

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In your March 11 editorial column I read an article entitled "Youth vs. Old Age."

If the students of the University of Maine are opposed to a preposterous plan (Townsend Plan) it does not mean they are opposed to old age pensions. I feel certain if the youth of University of Maine, or of the Nation were to Vote "yes" or "no" on a sane old age pension, the vote would be practically unanimously in the affirmative.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

ERIN! OH ERIN!
Like the bright lamp, that shone in Kildare's holy fane,
And burned through long ages of darkness and storm,
In the heart that afflictions have come o'er in vain,
Whose spirit outlives them, unfading and warm,
Erin! oh Erin! thus bright through the tears
Of a long night of bondage thy spirit appears!

The nations have fallen, and thou art all young,
Thy sun is but rising, when others are set;
And though slavery's cloud o'er thy morning hath hung
The full noon of freedom shall beam round thee yet.
Erin! oh Erin! though long in the shade,
Thy star will shine out, when the proudest shall fade!

Unchilled by the rain, and unwar'd by the wind,
The lily lies sleeping through winter's cold hour,
Till Spring, with a touch, her dark slumber unbind,
And daylight and liberty bless the young flower.
Erin! oh Erin, thy winter is past,
And the hope that thy life through it shall blossom

"The Black Cat"

By The Roving Reporter

One of the most frequently misspelled words in the English language is "pantomime." Most folks persist in spelling it "pantomine."

Deaths from typhoid and paratyphoid fever in the United States have declined 93 per cent since 1900, according to U. S. Census Bureau reports.

The third degree in Odd Fellowship was conferred upon Gov. Lewis O. Barrows in Augusta Friday night. He has taken all of the degrees in the order of good fellows.

The late Ezra Whitney was a very shrewd business man with a good sense of humor. He used to tell that once when he was buying rags, a customer, who wished the sum paid to measure up to a certain amount, hastily and secretly tucked in something to increase the weight. Mr. Whitney, who saw through, said nothing and paid for the total. Home he made an investigation and found—a valuable bronze bell!

Did you know that some of those magnificent elms now towering over Thomaston's main street came originally from the marshy soil off Rankin street? Charlie Coughlin is my authority for this statement and there are few Rockland citizens better versed in local affairs of other days.

I read a Canadian press despatch the other day showing that the total cost of the Welland Canal up to last March was $131,924,551, and that total revenues up to that time were $11,733,590. Canal tolls were abolished in 1903, since which time canal revenues have been derived solely from leases of lands, water power, wharfage and winterage charges and sundry minor receipts. It was my pleasure to visit Welland Canal in 1937, after a trip to Niagara Falls, and I saw three freight steamships locked through Donald L. Kelsey has a kitten with discriminating taste. Brought up in the precincts of Perry's Main street market she early cultivated a fondness for doughnuts, as manufactured in that store. At the Kelsey home the other day she was offered some of another make only to walk away from the offering with her nose wrinkled in a somewhat scornful manner. But when the Perry variety was offered she got right down to business, and ate the last crumb.

And speaking of cats there's that large and beautiful tiger in the Northend A.P. store. The feline is "nuts" over fur coats, as the customer perceives immediately upon entering the place.

If a popularity contest was engaged in at the New Hotel Rockland practically all of the votes would read "Queenie," and there would be a very great wagging of a very small tail. "Queenie" is Frank Donohue's dog, an aristocratic Bostonian, which has an uncanny faculty of being able to bounce a ball back into the hands of whoever tosses it to her.

The evergreen trees which have ornamented the front of the New Hotel Rockland since early in the Christmas holiday season, looked especially pretty during a recent snowstorm, and caught the eye of Mrs. L. Wilbur Messer of Auburn who was motoring past the hotel. She thoughtfully sent her chauffeur into the office to express her appreciation of the spectacle.

Somebody asked the late Editor Otis one day how he would like to have red hair. "Wouldn't care if it was green," said Oliver, "so long as I had some."

Put Up Good Fight

But Thomaston Boys' Club Failed To Land In Portland Tournament

Members of the Thomaston Boys' Club made some fine goal shots in the annual Y.M.C.A. Varsity Club basketball in Portland Tuesday night but not enough of them to beat the Standish Town Team. The Press Herald thus tells the story:

"In the feature, Standish eliminated the Thomaston Boys' Club in a torrid argument 41 to 33, while the Tigers stopped the Mayo Stenos 29 to 14.

"The Thomaston team, shooting in uncanny fashion in the first period, kept right on the heels of the Standish outfit. Dropping them in from all angles and from every possible manner, Thomaston's shooting practically equalled the more conservative team play of the Standish outfit, and the latter held only a 15 to 13 lead when the period closed.

"However, the second period marked the beginning of the end for Thomaston as its shots began to lose their accuracy and the one handers failed to hit the range. Standish opened up a comfortable although not insurmountable lead at the half time, which ended at 23 to 17.

"Standish added two points to its lead in the third period which closed at 31 to 23 and then despite the frantic efforts of Thomaston nursed that margin right down to the finish.

"The Austin brothers carried the brunt of the scoring for Standish, while Woodcock and C. Delano packed the most punch for Thomaston.

"The Tigers held the upper hand on the Mayo Stenos from the start, but the game hardly measured up to the second duel of the night. Neither team showed a great deal of smoothness and the game was rather wild and raggedly played. Every man on the Tiger quintet scored at least two points, while Carr with seven was the high point man of the game.

ADJOURNED TOWN MEETINGS

Adjourned town meetings were held in three Knox County towns yesterday. In St. George were two lively contests which saw Fred Smalley returned as selectman for his 21st term and a new road commissioner in power. Union voters junked politics and elected their officials without a single contest. Cushing had a solitary scrap, which went into the second phase.

CUSHING

Single Contest In Town Meeting But It Required Two Ballots

A solitary contest marked the adjourned town meeting Monday and the first vote resulted in a tie. Raybert Stevens and Samuel Olsen each receiving 16 votes for road commissioner. The second ballot was a stampede to Stevens, who won 22 to 12.

Bert S. Geyer as moderator looked well after the parliamentary interests of the meeting and W. B. Holder was returned to the two offices he has filled so creditably—town clerk and tax collector.

Other officers chosen were: Selectmen—Silas E. Hyler, N. H. Young and Riley Davis.

Assessors—Silas E. Hyler, Nelson F. Spear and Riley Davis.

Treasurer—Bert S. Geyer.

School Committee (three years)—Silas E. Hyler.

Constables—Bert S. Geyer, W. B. Holder and Albert D. Orr.

Road Commissioners—N. H. Young and Raybert Stevens.

The town budget for the ensuing year includes these appropriations:

Schools, $2,850; roads and bridges $1,000; support of poor, $1,900; snow removal, $500; repairs on school building, $25; town officers, $600; incidentals, $500; State and patrol, $500; cutting bushes on State highway, $100; State aid construction, $450; resurfacing road from Ad's Corner to Pleasant Point school-house, $500; painting town house, $50.

ST. GEORGE

Attempt To Dislodge Selectman Smalley Fails—A New Road Commissioner

Continuing town meeting from the postponed session of Monday when the only action was election of moderator, Whitney L. Wheeler, St. George residents debated the warrant and sundry affairs during a lengthy course yesterday.

Fred Smalley was elected first selectman by a vote of 132 as against 84 for his opponent, Forrest Wall.

Another active contest took place in the office of road commissioner, Allison Morris winning 175 ballots and Elmer Kallio, the incumbent, 64.

The other candidates went into service with little or no hindrance, namely: Charles E. Wheeler, clerk; Almond C. Hall, second selectman; Ralph L. Simmons, third selectman; Joseph T. Simmons, treasurer-tax collector; Albert J. Smalley, school committee; Minnie A. Allen, Emily W. Morris and Katherine E. Morris, overseers of the poor.

It was Mr. Smalley's 21st election as selectman, and speaks eloquently of the service he has given, as well as his popularity with the voters.

An article relating to the allowance of discount on taxes paid previous to July 1 was indefinitely postponed.

Another matter of prime local import was the voters' decision to keep the clam flats in town closed.

Popular President of Elks Association Gets Fine Greeting Here

Rockland Elks turned out in force Tuesday night to greet Judge Daniel E. Crowley, president of the Maine Elks Association and his suite. The lodges of Portland, Bangor, Bath and Biddeford, were well represented, and it was a most congenial gathering which sat around the turkey-laden tables.

Albert Dodge's orchestra played popular selections and between courses there were some excellent vaudeville acts.

Judge Crowley who heads the State Association is one of Maine's most popular Elks, and how highly he is regarded in his home city may be judged from the fact that he was recently appointed to the responsible office of municipal judge.

In the course of an excellent talk he told how the State Association was sponsoring a ward in the Portland Children's Hospital, and of the excellent work which is being done in providing college scholarships.

President Crowley was accompanied by C. Dwight Stevens, who did an impressive piece of work as grand esquire; James Usher, exalted ruler of the Portland Lodge.

Edward R. Twomey, secretary of the State Association soon to be installed exalted ruler of the Portland Lodges; and Joseph E. Boucher of Portland, the Association's traveling secretary. Mr. Stevens in the course of a brief but appropriate speech, proved his prowess as a humorist.

The vaudeville acts included Miss Reta Young, vocal; Teddy Bridge, piccolo and sax; Danny Patt accordion; and Ray Newton guitar.

The nomination of officers forecasts a lively, but friendly contest for exalted ruler, between William Blake and Charles McIntosh. The other nominees are: Albert Collins, Leading Knight; Dr. Dana Newman, Loyal Knight; Dr. Blake Annis, Lecturing Knight; Simon Crosby, Tyler; J. N. Southard, secretary; Almon P. Richardson, treasurer; Robert Brewer, trustee for three years; Robert Brewer, alternate to Grand Lodge.

The annual meeting takes place March 27.

Bees Will Overeat
There's a good reason why bees do not sting while swarming. Before leaving the hive they gorge themselves with honey. Like a human who has overeaten, they're too stuffed and sleepy to mind disturbances. Bees swarm, or leave the old hive, when crowded out by bees hatched that spring. In each swarming, worker bees cluster around the queen bee to protect her each time she lights. Thus, by cornering the queen, the whole hive can be captured.

THE WEATHER

Rockland folks went to bed last night with snowdrifts of heroic size commanding the situation. They awoke this morning to find that the city had been transformed into an American Venice, and before the head of the house could hit the trail for his daily work it was necessary to let fall the portcullis. Dancing pumps were quite generally discarded in favor of high-topped rubber boots. March stole in like a little fleecy lamb, but midway of its passage is exhibiting a most unfriendly attitude. Perhaps St. Patrick's Day will mark the turn.

Here... you take the microphone

We can't talk about these topcoats without getting excited and you'll remember how Orson Wells scared the wits out of the radio listeners a couple of months back by getting realistic.

So you do the talking. See the coats... feel the silky fabrics between your fingers... try on one or two of the styles... and strut over to a candid mirror and if the opinion you form doesn't sell you the coat, the garment still belongs to us.

Dan Maher of Bangor, probably the best known camera man in the State, was guest speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Rockland Lions Club, and to its members gave enlightenment as to the comparative new method of sending photographs by radio and wire. Owing to the technical nature of this highly interesting performance the writer foregoes any attempt at an explanation here. The Associated Press has between 40 and 50 machines distributed among the country's key cities and has a network of leased wires at a cost of half a million dollars a year.

Maher's long career as a camera man has been productive of many important, interesting and humorous events—nervous racking at times, he freely admits.

He is subject to call at any hour of the day or night and likened his duties to those of a doctor, only the doctor makes more money. They brought him into contact with men of international prominence like President Theodore Roosevelt, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Prince of Wales and Henry Ford.

Humorous, told naively at his own experiences, included his visit to the State Prison, where most of the inmates seemed to know him personally. His attempt to photograph the summit of Mt. Katahdin from a height of 10,000 feet; and his experiences on a battleship when all of the guns were being fired at once. His "shot" at a battleship on trial won him a prize from Fox Film as the best thrill shot of the month.

Guests yesterday were Arthur Fisher of Bradford, Penn., Robert Russell, Earle C. Dow and R. S. Sherman.

CLASSY PHIL GROVER

Action has started once again in the Knox County bowling championship. Grover, the champ from Camden, making his first defence of the title against Frank Gardner of Rockland. This match was scheduled for Monday night, but the snowstorm killed it.

Phil Grover once again proved he is one of the classiest bowlers ever to hold the title. His total of 1138 to 1026 for Frank, shows clearly that the man who beats him will have to clip nearly 1100, to even be near him at the finish. Last night little Philip was really pouring it on, maybe taking a bit of revenge on Frank for scalping his manager Poor Chickadee, the big chief, at the Camden YMCA.

The story will be told in Saturday's issue.

Thirteen may not be an unlucky number but with that many applications for one police job it is manifest that 12 of them must lose out. The position to be filled is that made vacant recently by the resignation of Neil Packard, and those who seek to fill his shoes are Harold W. Philbrook, Frank Bridges, William Leventer, M. E. Drinkwater, Maurice Harding, John Linnell, George Wooster, Al Chapman, Robert Sadler, James Breen, Earl H. Barter and Walter Staples. The appointment will not be made until the April meeting of the City Government.

"The D.A.R. and Marian Anderson" will be discussed Friday afternoon at the Educational Club meeting. Current events, drive results and history papers are also scheduled. Box lunch will be partaken in the Grand Army dining hall at 6 o'clock, with club coffee to supplement it. Lincoln McRae, as afternoon speaker will have as topic, "Life's Investments." The associate editor of The Courier-Gazette, F. A. Winslow, will speak on a fascinating subject, "The Children of Callander," everyone wants to hear about those five little girls of world fame, and Dr. Dafoe, the world's best known physician. Dr. Beulan Burhoe, professor at Westbrook Junior College, will contribute at 7 o'clock, "Guidance, a Function of the School." Prof. Thomas M. Griffiths of Waterville, former Camden Baptist pastor, will speak on "The New History."

To next Christmas is a far cry but from away down in La Paz, Bolivia, comes the welcome word that Captain Bill Wincapaw will be home before that time and will again do the Sky Santa act for the benefit of the light houses and Coast Guard stations along the northern New England coast. Bill has changed airplane companies since he went to South America, being now with "Companie Aramayo de Mines in Bolivia." His present address is "Casilla 674, La Paz, Bolivia and letters from friends up this way are eagerly devoured. "Speaking about weather," he writes, "it is very funny to be living at an altitude of over 12,000 feet, going to work at over 14,000 feet which is better than two miles up. To top it off we cross the Andes three and four times a day, flying into the mines, sometimes going over 27,000 feet. Boy, oh boy! You need oxygen most of the time."

The quiet hour Lenten service in the Universalist vestry will this week be held tonight at 7.30, instead of Friday night as previously announced. Dr. John Smith Lowe will speak on the subject "Our Religious Emotions and Life's Inspirations." Mrs. Gladys Helstad will be soloist.

Rev. Donald F. Perron, pastor of the Baptist Church in Thomaston, and a very pleasing speaker, will tell the Baptist Men's League to-night about many matters in the Philippines. It's a fascinating topic, and Mr. Perron speaks from the vantage point of one who spent several years there. President I. Lawton Bray tells of a nice supper in the making.

Mayor Edward R. Veazio ex-grippe patient, was back on the job Tuesday noting with approval the excellent work which the Highway Department was doing in the way of snow removal. And that was the general verdict along the street. The crews had a lot of snow to handle, and they were doing it expeditiously.

The shadow of the earth on the moon, during an eclipse, is curved; men have sailed around the world; ships in sailing away from shore gradually disappear over the curved horizon. These are some of the reasons we know the earth is round.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty urination with stinging and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Doan's Pills are made in the U.S.A. by Doan's Medicine Co., Rochester, N.Y.

GRANGE MATTERS

One of the most prominent Grange figures in the United States has been removed by the death of the treasurer of the National Grange, Hon. Robert P. Robinson of Wilmington, Delaware.

Mr. Robinson had been very active in the Grange affairs for a generation and for many years served the Delaware State Grange as its Master.

He was Governor of the State of Delaware four years and one of the most outstanding figures in its public life.

Mr. Robinson had been a life-time banker and for many years was president of the Central National Bank at Wilmington serving in that capacity up to the time of his death, which came very suddenly and without serious illness.

As treasurer of the National Grange, Mr. Robinson's work had been of exceptional character and he was considered one of the wisest advisors in the councils of that fraternity. His successor as treasurer of the National Grange has not been named.

Two new Grange halls recently added to the list in New Jersey are the happy possessions of Liberty Grange at Marlboro and Grand View Grange at Flemington. Both buildings are thoroughly modern and well equipped, represent a considerable expenditure and will provide genuine community centers for many activities of educational and civic character. Both halls were made possible largely through liberal contributions of volunteer work by Grange members, and both buildings are decided accessions to community life.

The Massachusetts State Grange gives a full set of beautiful officers' regalia to every new juvenile unit organized within that State.

One of the most interesting organizations in the State of California is the "Golden Wedding Club," which has enlisted a membership of several dozen aged couples of the State, who hold occasional get-togethers with a happy social reunion and always a sumptuous feast. The agility of some of these veterans is quite remarkable, inasmuch as in numerous instances the period of their wedded life covers 60 and even more years together; while some of the parties have passed nine decades of life.

The hand of the Grange is conspicuously seen in this unique organization inasmuch as the president of the club, and its most active sponsor, is George R. Harrison of Sebastopol former master of the California State Grange. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are among the liveliest of the "Golden Weddings," are always present at the meetings and are indeed "the life of the party."

In Tennessee the Home and Community Welfare committees of the Granges are hard at work on the preparation of a Tennessee State Grange cook book. Up to date recipes are being solicited from Grange housewives throughout the State; while similar requests are being made from prominent Grange women in other States. The book will soon be ready for printing and distribution, and is expected to be an unusually fine collection of appetizing recipes.

Eight hundred thousand alert Grange members in the United States can't be wrong! They believe the Grange a worthwhile organization and are contributing to it liberally of their time and strength.

New England Grange interest is being aroused in a project calling for a six-state horseshoe pitching tournament this season, in which already the "barnyard golf" enthusiasts of that area are manifesting much interest.

This plan calls for local horseshoe pitching contests, then by county and Pomona districts and the grand finals during the Eastern States Exposition, on the latter's grounds at West Springfield, Mass. The date of this big event has been set for Sept. 20, and that there will be some excitement on the grounds that day may readily be predicted.

For a number of years Massachusetts has conducted a State-wide tournament of this character, with very keen interest awakened, and an effort will now be made to extend the same plan to the entire New England area.

During the month of January, 11 members of the Grange in the State of Maine were awarded Golden Sheaf certificates by the National Grange, indicating 50 years or more of continuous membership and activity. Maine has more Golden Sheaf certificate holders than any other of all the 36 organized Grange States.

The Connecticut State Grange mourns the death of its treasurer, Darius A. St. John of New Canaan, who was also treasurer of Fairfield County Pomona and of New Canaan subordinate. Mr. St. John was one of the best known Patrons in Connecticut and had been an active Grange member for more than 50 years.

Committee on Maine Publicity Tuesday.

Representative Dow of Kennebec, sponsor of the measure, said "it would be a great benefit to Maine persons; a progressive step which other States might very well follow." He said it would especially help employees and school teachers.

Abolishing Trial Justices

Bills designed to abolish trial justices and to limit the drawing of certain legal documents by justices of the peace, trial justices and notaries of the public were opposed at hearings before the Legislative Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

Weatherbee of Lincoln, sponsor of the bill to abolish trial justices, told the committee such a move would prevent "abuses" common among mere fact trial justices. He said the fees was evidence they "would be partial to officers who bring cases to their courts."

Under Weatherbee's bill no more trial justices would be appointed after Jan. 1, 1940, leaving the matter up to the Legislature in 1941 to set up Municipal Courts in the sections to take care of trials now conducted by trial justices.

The opponents said the greatest trouble with trial justices was their appointment by the Governor were not properly investigated to determine their qualifications. All opponents favored a bill now in the Legislature which would require officers to bring their cases to the nearest trial justice or Municipal Court.

The Blueberry Bill

Strong opposition to a proposed tax on blueberries for advertising and stabilizing the industry was registered Tuesday at a joint session of the Legislative Committees on Agriculture and Maine Publicity. The hearing was continued to next Tuesday to afford others of Washington County, blueberry-growing area to speak on the proposal.

Opponents said they felt the suggested tax of one-quarter cent a pound on blueberries was excessive and added there were problems of grading and marketing still to be solved. Noyes of Franklin said the proposed tax rate would amount to around 12 cents a bushel and added half that amount would be "much fairer."

"You can't legislate good berries," he said. "The quality of the product is up to the individual grower."

Other opponents included Arthur Scott, Henry Kontio and H. A. Emmmons, all connected with the State of Maine Blueberry Association; H. A. Hart, vice president of the State of Maine Blueberry Growers, Inc.; Lindsey Clark of Washington County; and Alan Foss of Gray, both blueberry growers.

Proponents of the bill were headed by Senator Clarence B. Beckett of Calais, the sponsor, Frank P. Washburn, Maine's Commissioner of Agriculture; Representative Alan I. Bird of Rockland, Councilor Harold F. Schurle of Cape Elizabeth, Senator George P. Findlen of Fort Fairfield, and L. B. McPadden of Lubec, Washington County.

Commissioner Washburn outlined the possibilities of developing the blueberry industry. He said 188,780 busbels of blueberries were produced in Maine last year.

Hunting and Fishing Licenses

A bill boosting hunting and fishing licenses sufficiently to make the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game self-supporting is ready for introduction in the Legislature.

The Appropriations and Financial Affairs Committee drafted the measure as the first of many moves it contemplated to so rearrange the State's fiscal affairs as to permit a balanced budget without imposition of new taxes.

The Legislature recently granted the committee authority to submit legislation regardless of the expired dead-line for new bills, and without committee hearings.

Members estimated the total gain, under the proposed fee revision, would be $150,000 a year. The bill would affect all licenses except the combined, non-resident seasonal fishing and hunting license, which now costs $15.

Illustrations of other increases contemplated by the measure, to be introduced within a day or two. Resident licenses: Hunting, from $1 to $150; fishing, from $1 to $2; combined, from $2 to $350; non-resident, fishing, from $5 to $6; hunting, from $5 to $8.

The Strange Birds

Miss Burpee Calls 'Em Purple Finches and An Albino Robin

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
If the kind woman from Crockett's Point had carried her observation a little further, she would find the bill a stout, sturdier one than the sparrow's, suitable for the heavier grains, insects and apple seeds.

The birds are purple finches. Why purple? The ornithologists are asking themselves and one another, for the color ranges from a delicate pink to a warm raspberry when the birds are in full plumage. A large flock flew in at the Middle street station yesterday. Happy, alert little creatures, they are among the earliest of the migratory birds to come North.

The song is very lovely and is just beginning to be heard. After the nesting season, the birds seek the open pastures and orchards and sing all summer.

The robin is evidently an albino, as robins have been reported from time to time this winter. A whole white bird is rare, although more or less white is often seen, even among the feathers of the English sparrow.

Ada C. Burpee
Rockland, March 15.

S. U. V. Auxiliary Celebrates Silver Anniversary—Two Charter Members Present

The 25th anniversary of Anderson Camp Auxiliary was celebrated at the meeting last night. Supper was served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, the dining room being in charge of Mrs. Lillian Cotton. The decorations honoring St. Patrick's Day were lovely, each table having centerpiece of three white candles set in green.

At the business session the two charter members, Mrs. Mae Cross and Mrs. Velma Marsh were escorted to the altar, along with Col. E. K. Gould, Judge Advocate and Col. I. Leslie Cross, Auxiliary Councilor. The two honored guests were presented bouquets of mixed spring flowers by the president, Mrs. Doris Ames.

Mrs. Stella McRae presented the entertainment program—A history of the Auxiliary was read by Mrs. Eliza Plummer in a most pleasing manner. She spoke of the zeal and diligence of the two charter members, who are at the present time among the most active. Mrs. Cross being Department president, and Mrs. Marsh, guide; also a past president of Anderson Auxiliary.

Mrs. Nellie Hall played two piano selections; humorous readings were given by Mrs. Ruby Allen of Warren, Mrs. Mary Dinsmore, Mrs. Bessie Church, Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Ames; vocal solos by Mrs. Jennie Pietroski; questions by Mrs. Nellie Achorn; piano solo, Charles Schaller. Interesting remarks were made by Col. E. K. Gould, who told the members it was his first time out at night for four months. Col. Gould is recovering from a severe illness.

The program closed with remarks by the Warren visitors, that Auxiliary, together with Camden Auxiliary, being a special guest for the Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ulmer of Verona are visiting Rev. and Mrs. Henry Ulmer, homeward bound after two months sojourn in Florida.

Miss Ruth Anderson, chief operator at the local telephone office, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Anderson have returned from a three weeks vacation trip in the sunny south, visiting in St. Petersburg and making many interesting side trips.

State Of Maine Day

At New England Flower Show Saturday — Gov. Barrows Invited

Saturday will be State of Maine Day at the 68th annual New England Spring Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, opening today at Mechanics Building, Boston.

Edwin S. Webster, president of the society, has invited Gov. Barrows to be the special guest of the society during the day and a large delegation is expected from the Garden Club Federation of Maine.

The show is of particular interest to Maine people this year as one of the features of the show is a brand-new carnation. This flower, bred by William Sim of North Berwick, Me., has been named in honor of Mrs. Abba Coe, president of the Garden Club Federation of Maine and it will receive its first public display during the show.

Of particular interest to Maine gardeners also will be the two major features of the show. One of these "Gardening Down the Ages" highlights the past 2000 years of gardening history by means of eight typical gardens. No pains have been spared to make the plantings precisely the same as those used in each period and the architectural features and the backgrounds are the results of months of research. The other feature is the work of the garden clubs and is a "New England House and Garden."

It consists of an early New England mansion house set upon a wide terrace and looking down upon about a half acre of lawn in which is a fountain surrounded by a dozen different gardens. Each of these gardens, all in midsummer bloom, is a deliberate working out of principles and problems which the amateur gardener must solve in developing his property. Thus the display is not only breath-taking in its beauty but packed with instructive ideas.

One unusual display in the show is also the work of a State of Maine woman. Mrs. R. M. Newman of Georgetown. Out of her collection of more than 100 lichens, mosses and related forms, she has selected 70 of her most beautiful and interesting types and organized them into an amazingly varied and instructive exhibit. While all the species are properly known only by their scientific names an idea of the variety of Maine's mosses thus on parade can be gathered from the fact that the display includes such well known types as the brooms, the half-caps, the whites, the giants, the trees, the plumes, the shags, the cords, the purples, the apples, the bogs and the cedar mosses.

Most of the 70 species, of course have no common names, being unrecognized save by botanists who specialize in this technical field. But the mosses, for all their small size, possess a marvelous range of form, color and beauty—ranging from plants just like tiny fir trees down to plants which bear caps and bells like creatures of mythology.

Mrs. Newman began the study of mosses as a hobby several years ago but she has progressed so rapidly that the study has become a major interest in her busy life and she gives much of her time to collecting specimens in many parts of the Maine wilderness and then, at home, mounting her collections and arranging them in various forms such as moss dishes, terrariums, bouquets and the like.

Garden clubs have recognized her work with the mosses by inviting her to lecture at meetings and her home on Georgetown Island is rapidly becoming well known throughout New England as a center for the study of Maine's mosses as well as the related hepatics, fungi and the rest.

A MAID CALLED MILLS

Whom You Will Take To Your Heart When She Talks About Household Matters

BROADCAST BY MARJORIE MILLS

(Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 1.30 p. m. over Stations WNAC, Boston; WTAG, Worcester; WCHS, Portland; WTIC, Hartford; WICC, Bridgeport; WEAN, Providence; and WLBZ, Bangor).

Odds and ends of information for you today, supplied by the ever - helpful "family" out of the goodness of their hearts. Clara Fernald in Rockland, Maine, says if lengthy directions for meringue given recently didn't answer your problem you might try her stunt which is simple and infallible . . . a tablespoon of cold water for each egg white added before beating.

Any boxes of seedlings started along in a sunny window? Betty Lennox suggests a "back drop" of white paper to reflect the sun and keep them growing straight. Pieces of heavy white paper can be curved behind each little plant, stuck down in the earth and supported with a toothpick; otherwise your small plant grows toward the sun. And if bulbs poke their noses through the ground while we still have raw March days ahead, sprinkle a handful of soil over each shoot so its nose won't be nipped.

Pauline Whalen, Stoughton wonders if you know about rubbing a crust of dry bread with a cut clove of garlic to add to the salad greens when you toss them. It adds the "hint" of garlic some people like better than the real flavor. Have you added slivers of Swiss cheese to those blended greens . . . chicory, crisp dandelion leaves, lettuce, watercress, even raw, tender little spinach leaves and a good dressing. There's your spring tonic . . . the best possible sort. The cheese frequently "sells" mixed green salad to men who scorn "rabbit food."

If it's an appetizer you're needing how about crisp stalks of celery stuffed with cream cheese moistened with cream and then chopped salted almonds and chopped pimiento added for "zip." Cut in inch lengths and serve with tomato juice for a first course. Ripe olives heated in their own juice or with olive oil and a cut clove of garlic are great appetizers too.

Carlotta Libby in East Pepperell says she owes a big vote of thanks to the person who told us to thicken gravy by adding flour and water which had been shaken together in a jar. And the stunt of a wire dish-draiser nailed to the wall over the kitchen radiator or range where sweaters, mittens and wet sport socks could dry was "heaven-sent" she swears. (Don't dry woollens in too warm a place, remember.) She asks about getting a brown crust on corn beef hash . . . adding a little milk or beef stock to the chopped meat and potato, then covering the pan in which the hash browns does the trick we find.

Pierre Corbeau, the chef at the Lafayette in Portland served "ref flannel hash" that was a poem the other day. The hash heaped on a platter, flaming red with beets, then balls cut with a French cutter from potatoes, and turnip, baby carrots, tiny boiled onions and beets in a festive wreath all round the platter with sprigs of parsley. Do you feel, as we do, that vegetable hash needs a dash of vinegar to taste its best or don't you ever serve this humble concoction?

Now for some especially good recipes contributed by Mrs. Claude Crafts of Grasmere, N. H.

Nut Rolls

Apricot Fool

(Sent in by Mrs. Claude Crafts, Grasmere, N. H.)

One pound apricots, stewed and sieved 1 cup sugar, 3 egg yolks, 3 egg whites, ½ cup sugar (additional).

Add the sugar to the apricots which have been stewed and sieved, together with the apricot juice. Add the beaten egg yolks and chill. When served, put on top the egg whites beaten stiff with ½ cup sugar. Serve in parfait glasses.

Chop Suey

(Sent in by Mrs. Claude Crafts, Grasmere, N. H.)

One pound lean beef, 1 pound lean pork, 3 onions chopped, 2 stalks celery, chopped, 4 tablespoons Blue Label Ketchup, 2 tablespoons chop suey sauce, 1 cup black La Touraine Coffee, 1 can bean sprouts, 4 tablespoons molasses, 1 can Chinese Noodles.

That Gold Mine

Mrs. Maddocks Gives Definite Instructions As To Locating It

Rockland, March 13
Curiosity is said to have proven fatal to a certain cat.

Hoping to save the Black Cat from such a fate, I will try to answer its question regarding the location of the gold mine at Ingraham Hill.

I frequently pass the place, in summer, on my way to my cottage at Ingraham Hill.

Leave the main highway on the southern slope of the hill by turning left between Harry Spaulding's and Rappley's. Follow this road straight down toward the water. Now just where this road makes a left turn and heads North John Westland's new cottage and garage will be right in front of you. Just back of the garage and toward the water is the site of the old gold mine. At one time there was quite an excavation there; but it has since been filled.

Frank Reed, poultry specialist of the Extension Service, discussed some of the new chick diseases at meetings held this past week in the county. Many of these diseases are new to Maine but have been found in other States in the past few years. The new disease which is showing up in several places is ulcerated gizzards.

Herbert Spear of North Nobleboro is planning to attend Farm and Home Week at Orono this month in place of his father and mother who have attended the past two years.

Many requests are being received for lime and super-phosphate from farmers in the county.

Arthur Paquet of North Edgcomb is expecting 3,000 chicks the last of this month. He has his brooders ready, litter in, and feed hoppers and water fountains ready to fill.

Success in raising chicks is to have a clean brooder house and everything in readiness for the chicks when they arrive. Don't wait until the last minute and then do only half a job for it will mean loss later.

Programs for Farm and Home Week are out and a copy may be obtained from the Extensions Service Office, Rockland.

An interesting favor for St. Patrick's Day may be an imitation clay pipe made from marshmallows, green cellophane drinking straws, and green ribbon for trim. With a pair of sharp, pointed scissors, hollow out the center of a marshmallow slightly (to make the bowl of the pipe.) Then tie a narrow green ribbon around the bowl for decoration. Next, insert one end of the straw low on one side for the pipe stem, and fill with candy or nuts.

4-H Club Notes

The Sheepscot 4-H club met recently with Mrs. Ruth Leighton, their club leader. The sewing girls learned how to run the sewing machine and those taking cooking and housekeeping prepared vegetable dishes using several different recipes. Following the meeting, Elva Ross served refreshments of cup cakes and cocoa and the members played Chinese Checkers.

The Boothbay Gainers Club served a supper to club parents and guests, Monday, which consisted of pot roast and gravy, mashed potatoes, squash, cabbage salad whole wheat bread, ice-cream and crackers. Two public demonstrations were presented—one on salad making by Mina Butler, and one on judging yeast bread by Beryl Butler. This club has had fourteen meetings and has presented its public demonstration. They have only one more requirement to meet in order to have completed all possible requirements to date for their national seal of achievement.

The club agent conducted a judging contest on lunch box menus when the Gold Star Workers' club of South Thomaston met at the home of their leader Mrs. Ruby Makinen, March 8. Joan Baum will receive the judging ribbon for having the highest score. Popcorn was served and games were enjoyed following the meeting.

Doris Felker of the Sunshine Workers of Friendship demonstrated making crisp molasses cookies at its meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. Charles Grant. At the next meeting, fruit candy and apple sauce will be demonstrated as suggested in the lunch box program for suitable sweet food to be served in the lunch box.

Club Members Will Compete at Egg Show

Some 4-H club member will win a premium of 100 chicks at the egg show at the University of Maine, Orono, during Farm and Home Week, March 27 to 30, announces Prof. J. R. Smyth, head of the Poultry Department at the University. Ten prizes are offered to club members ranging from 100 chicks for the first premium down to fifty cents for the tenth. The required exhibit is one dozen eggs. Exhibits should arrive at the University on Saturday, March 25, or Monday, March 27. Club members may enter exhibits in several other classes besides the special 4-H class if they wish. All eggs exhibited become the property of the show.

"Bill" Lamb Tells of Beauty and Industry In North Carolina

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—My last letter gave a description of the Skyline Drive, Winchester and points of interest in that section. From there through the Blue Ridge Mountains into Tennessee and Virginia is the country of beautiful underground caverns, such as the Luray, Endless, Crystal and many others.

Buena Vista is appropriately named, nestled in a valley where manufacturing flourishes. The new road over the mountains to Lynchburg, Va., is in process of construction. In Pulaski I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Rockwell of the grocery firm, Rockwell & Patterson; he is a native of Cherryfield.

Next on the route was Wytheville where Mrs. Woodrow Wilson spent her school days. The climb over Blue Ridge to Ivanhoe where lead mines are prevalent, breaks the monotony until the Prison Camp looms above Fries. Business booms in North Carolina, and mills are running full time. Both wool and cotton are manufactured and at one mill two 40-hour shifts have just been put into operation. At Salisbury, is located the Cannon Towel Co. mill which covers acres and hires thousands. Badin is a mining town where aluminum ore is milled into powder and ingots. In Salisbury, the Rowan Manufacturing Co. is running nights. Other towns and cities in this vicinity also appear to be progressing industrially. High Point, where the furniture factories of Grand Rapids have moved to, has grown from a small town to a city of 38,000 and is still growing.

WHAT MRS. ANDREWS MISSED

Following a quotation in the Rockland paper of a Rockport woman's version of seeing Kickapoo Indians in Eastport streets, on a visit last summer, including a squaw, alleged to be 110 years old, the Eastport Sentinel comes back with this spirited retort:—And the Bible says it is the young men who see visions and dream dreams." The lady certainly saw a lot on her visit here. It is too bad she missed seeing our native Passamaquoddy Indians ambushing the invaders and taking their scalps after a short but bloody battle.—Lewiston Journal
